GRAIN AND TRADE CONGRESS

Delegates Are Beginning To Reach Charleston.

Today. It is composed of Mr. M. V. Watson, first vice president, and Mr. E. M. Clendenning, secretary, and Colonel J. M. Love, chairman of the committee on agriculture, and the Commercial Club.

Other delegates are expected tonight and at noon tomorrow. The local committee met today and completed arrangements for the entertainment of the delegates and

The convention will be called for termporary organization at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 29th, at Hibernian hall, and adjourn at 11:30 o'clock, for an excursion around the harbor and a visit to Fort Sumter.

After the excursion in the harbor the delegates will be landed at some of the great fertilizer works. After inspecting them

They will be transported on a special train to Summerville, the suburb of Charleston and winter resort for northern tourists, where they will be dined at 6:30 o'clock in the evening at the Pine Forest Inn.

On the morning of the 30th the business of the convention will be commenced.

President Fish's paper on "The Ways and Means to Facilitate Business Between the West and South," will probably be the first read.

Among the other papers to be read is one by Colonel J. M. Lowe, on "The Agricultural and Manufactured Products of the West; Their Consumption and Distribution Through the South and Their Export-

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS.

Yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the section of philanthropy of the Woman's Club entertained the entire club with an interesting and delightful program. Mrs. William B. Lowe, the president, presided, and was assisted by Mrs. William A. Hemphill, chairman of the philanthropic section. The program was a most successful one. It is her object to bring into prominence every philanthropic institution of the city to expose the wonderful good accomplished by each and wherein they may be in need of assistance. Her bureau of registration will enable all citizens to find out the names of the various homes to make themselves known to the proper authorities. The chairman appointed to represent this different institutions at the meetings, read detailed and interesting reports from the results of their work, and the meeting throughout was but another and strong evidence of the remarkable progress of the Woman's Club.

The following institutions were represented yesterday by their chairman, who read most satisfactory reports. The county agent, the Hebrew German, German society, Home for the Friendless, orphan home at Decatur, Baptist home, Florence Crittenton home, Church Relief societies, King's Daughters, Young Men's Christian Association, Jewish orphanage, Lend a Hand mission, Grady hospital, Free Kindergarten Association and the Carrie Steele orphanage, of which a most interesting and laudable report was read.

At the conclusion of the various reports Mrs. Hartman, of the Salvation Army, by special request, spoke in behalf of the army, and earnestly impressed her hearers, not only with the very beautiful and merciful principles of the Salvation Army, but the sacrifices made daily by individual members for the afflicted and suffering. She gave an outline of their work, of how they went about trying to do good among the ignorant and suffering, and gave many instances of conversions effected among seemingly hopeless cases. Her personal experiences, hardships and sacrifices won an earnest appeal to all present, and there is no doubt the present needs of the division of the Salvation Army in Atlanta will receive the prompt encouragement and assistance it deserves.

At intervals during the reading of the various reports there were two charming recitations. Miss May Kenney and Miss Annie Howard sang delightful ballads, and are among the most popular vocalists of the city. Miss Julia Belle Hemphill recited "Somebody's Mother" with a tenderness and grace that was heartily applauded. She has unusual histrionic ability, and her voice is especially adapted to the pathetic. Mrs. Jarnagan recited "Guilty or Not Guilty" in that convincing manner that has won her reputation of being one of the most gifted elocutionists in the city.

At the conclusion of the meeting, delicious refreshments were served, and Mrs. Hemphill was heartily congratulated upon the success of her department, in which she practically illustrated the motto of the philanthropic section: "We will stand for humanity, and though we would make it kind, we would not make it cruel." Her assistants in her noble work are Mrs. G. S. Runette and Mrs. Pinkie Walker, secretary, Miss Adelle Gill Helmer.

In these days of novel entertainments for sweet charity's sake it seems rather a wonder to me that Atlanta, so abnormally the times in most things, doesn't give a party for the gathering of shekels. Why don't the young ladies of the city, that isn't a luncheon class at all these days, devoted as it is to indulgence after dark in the dainties prepared by club members, why don't they give a party in connection with the feast which they spread before the fatuous eyes and heavy appetites of their male admirers? The costumes for such affairs cost little or nothing. Any sort of stuff will do provided it is simple and depressed looking and of a color to suggest a mourning mood.

Black, white and gray cheese cloth, that is all one needs for a Brainerd or an Audubon. However, there are not many figures suitably thin for poster ladies, and if I did suggest some thing like that, I should be named would not be particularly pleased. Tain women don't mind being thin half as much as fat ones object to give. It would be very thin indeed and to have the party's attention called to it would not be particularly pleasing. The suggestion, too, that any Atlanta belle had the face of a poster lady would not be always flattering, since the countenances of the latter are either bulbous or wanly wrecked. Still, if one is educated in the art of raising over these poster beauties, the looking like one of them seems like a fine and flattering thing. The party would certainly be a jolly one off in scenic display by a hearty supper.

Speaking of the luncheon club reminds me to ask if this isn't rather a bad time for our girls to have inaugurated any kind of a cooking society? It is the time for treating the inner woman abstemiously for the preservation of the beauty of the outer one. Having had in my girlhood an experience with these cooking classes in a small village where there wasn't much to do but to eat and go to church, I recall the fact that after keeping up the affairs all winter and feasting about twice a month on myriads of toothsome and dyspeptic inducing dishes, combined with the members, we found ourselves in such a pimply and loquacious condition by early spring that the feast had to be discontinued. This is, however, a day of muscles and bicycles, so, perhaps, the girls who indulge in these miscegenous collections of food can come some with exercise the gastronomic fire that might otherwise consume her.

Speaking of matters culinary reminds me of two splendid New Orleans recipes given in "Twentieth Century Cooking," and here they are:

"Jumbo." This recipe is for six persons. The ingredients are one and one-half pounds each of chicken and raw ham, six large hard crabs, one medium sized onion, half a pound of butter, and salt to taste. Kill the crabs by dropping them in not water a moment, then take them out and pour cold water over them. Remove the shell and claws, and cut each crab in two. Cut the onion in half, and chop it into small pieces; fry the onion in a dark brown with a tablespoonful of lard, and add the onion, and fry them brown with the onion. Dissolve a tablespoonful of brown flour in cold water, add it to the pan, mix all together, and add four quarts of warm water. Boil slowly until half fat, and add salt boiling, add a tablespoonful of gumbo shells. Let some shell in to make the soup a littleropy; it should be added gradually, as it is liable to be lumpy if not used carefully. If the shells have been kept well cooked, a larger quantity than a tablespoonful may be used.

"A quart of oysters (when they are in season) may be used instead of the shells, but they must not be put in at the same time the water is used. The oysters should be served before the soup, the oyster shells should be added at first-class groceries, or one can make them at home. The shells should be added in the spring. Oysters can be used to produce a thick soup. Cut three pounds of potatoes into small pieces, peel and cut up six large tomatoes, chop fine and add to the soup. Add the fish and tomatoes, together with a sprig of thyme, six cloves, and a sprig of parsley. Boil for two hours, and add a tablespoonful of butter, and a pinch of salt. The soup should be served in a thick consistency."

Dinner at Captain English's.

Last night another elegant entertainment was added to the numbers already given in honor of Miss Belle Lowe and Mr. J. W. English Jr., the occasion being an elaborate dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. English Jr. at the home of Mrs. J. W. English Jr.

The house and table decorations were distinguished by their simple elegance, palms being used as the principal adornment. The dining room and reception room. In the dining room there was a vision of exquisite tropical plants, while the table decorations were of orchids and bridesmaids' roses. The center piece was a bank of orchids with a fringe of maiden hair ferns, and a row of white roses. The table was set with a white tablecloth, and the chairs were covered with white cloth. The dinner was served in a most elegant manner, and the guests were most comfortable.

Tullis-Haltiwanger Wedding Tonight.

The wedding of Miss Alice Tullis and Mr. John Wesley Tullis takes place at St. Luke's cathedral tonight and will be one of the most beautiful weddings of the season. The bride, as described in the papers, will be a very beautiful young woman, and the groom is a very successful business man. The wedding will be held at 8 o'clock, and the ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr. Little, of Columbus, who will be in the city today.

Mr. John D. Little, of Columbus, will be in the city today, and will be the officiating minister at the wedding of Miss Alice Tullis and Mr. John Wesley Tullis.

The annual banquet of the members of the Capital City Club was an elegant affair last night.

The next meeting of the Heart Club will be at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Atkins, at 10 o'clock.

On next Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock the Woman's Club will tender an elegant reception to the convention of the Medical Association that will be in session at the city hall.

The club will perfect every detail to entertain the convention, and the committee on reception are: Mrs. McCabe, Mrs. King, Mrs. Otley, Mrs. Ira Fox, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Charles Wilcox, Mrs. Frank Bell, Mrs. Smythe and Mrs. George S. May.

During the convention the club rooms will be open to the visiting strangers, and every arrangement will be made for their pleasure and comfort. The generous hospitality of the club will be a great assistance to the local committee in charge of the social side of the convention.

Married, at Fort Thomas, April 23d, by Rev. Dr. McCredy, Miss Blanche Carr and Hon. Robert M. Stocking, of Minnesota.

A new and lovely feature of the English-Lowe wedding will be the delightful music that will precede the ceremony. The programme will be rendered by Mr. Paul, the organist, assisted by Mr. Leo Weber, during the hour preceding the wedding.

A Negro Woman Looked Up for the Murder of Her Child.

Lizzie Bryant, a young negro woman, is looked up at the station house on the charge of having killed her own child. She was arrested by Officers Conn and Williams yesterday afternoon, and the evidence seems to be convincing. The child was found in a ditch near the station house, and was recovered with great difficulty yesterday afternoon.

Circumstantial evidence placed the guilt on the girl and she was immediately arrested and taken to the station house. The body of the baby was taken to an undertaker's shop and the coroner will hold an inquest this afternoon. The woman will probably be given a hearing during the day.

Central Tariff Club.

The Central Tariff Club, an organization of local republicans, will hold its regular meeting tonight and will give the McKinley boom a decided boost. The organization is strongly in favor of the Ohio man. The president of the club is F. H. Howard, the secretary is R. B. Richardson.

Excursion to Tampa.

Those of our people who went on the recently conducted excursion to Tampa, Fla., last year by the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, will remember with pleasure their enjoyable experience and will be glad to learn that the Georgia Southern and Florida railway will run another excursion to Tampa on Monday, May 25th. It is intended by the Georgia Southern and Florida railway to make this excursion even more enjoyable than the last one, and to make it a very interesting and instructive trip. The excursion will be made by the Georgia Southern and Florida railway, and will include a visit to the fishing grounds and down the Manatee river to the orange groves. There are many interesting points in and around Tampa, and the excursion will give the tourists a chance to see them all. The excursion will be a very successful one, and will be a great pleasure to all who take part in it. With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—directed. This is the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system. The California Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere known as the highest standard of good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, and delicately cleanses the system on which it acts. Its therefore important, in order to get the full beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that it is the California Syrup of Figs, which is manufactured by the California Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

When the movement of good health, in the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. It is only when the system is deranged, and afflicted with any actual disease, that the physician, or the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed physician, the best standard of health is most largely obtained, and gives most general satisfaction.

THE CHANGE AS IT IS

How the New System at the Boys' High School Will Operate.

METHOD GENERALLY INDORSED Professor E. E. West Has a Few Words To Say in Explanation of the New System.

A radical change is to be made in the educational methods of the Boys' High school. At the last session of the board of education the departmental system was recommended and by the next term it will be fully instituted.

This change is considered a big step in advance, and is generally indorsed by the teachers and patrons. Instead of a teacher handling one grade, where all studies are taught, he will handle only one subject, and in this way a superior system will be built up.

Professor E. E. West, teacher of second grade B in the Boys' High school, gives a lucid explanation of the new method. He says:

"In answer to inquiries, I have before me over fifty letters on this subject from principals of high schools and superintendents of public school systems in cities of 20,000 population and over from every section of the United States. The list of cities includes Boston, Brooklyn, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, O., Washington, Pittsburg, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Seattle, San Francisco, St. Louis, Richmond, New Orleans, Louisville, Savannah, Macon and many others. It is a remarkable fact that every letter received—except from Springfield, Ill.—indorses the department system.

"Massachusetts given may be collectively given, as follows: In the departmental system the teaching is done by experts. The teacher is an authority in his line. He knows not only what to teach, but what not to teach, and by improved methods, economizes both time and energy. A teacher of one subject has the advantage of carrying his work through grade after grade, thus making the method of teaching the subject continuous and harmonious.

"A pupil always under the same teacher, unless that teacher is very exceptional, acquires by insensible limitation idiosyncrasies of thought and manner which it is highly desirable to avoid. This danger is at a minimum in departmental teaching.

"The departmental system, by introducing diversity, increases interest and concentration of mind. The monotony of one voice heard for five hours a day produces weariness and consequent inattention.

"In the new system the department teacher knows what the pupils have done and wastes no time in making a beginning. He teaches not for one grade only, but for all grades. He holds himself responsible for the work in that subject throughout the course. He sees the end from the beginning and prepares for it. It gives his work unity, consistency and completeness. I give extracts from a few of the letters received.

"Superintendent Maxwell, of Brooklyn:
'It is now a generally accepted principle that nothing but departmental work should be done in high schools.'

"Superintendent Lane, of Chicago: 'The present is the time for specialization. The departmental method is in harmony with the work done in the best country schools and opens the way for an unfolding or discovery of any special powers or adaptation to work which pupils may possess.'

"Report of United States committee of education: 'The results accomplished under the departmental plan are so far surpassing to what had been done without it that a further extension seems inevitable.'

"Principal Harper, Woodward High school, Cincinnati: 'Our school has always been conducted upon the departmental plan. I do not see how efficient work can be done in any other way. Some of our smaller schools, for lack of funds, are compelled to employ teachers who have a smattering of all knowledge, and pupils from such schools invariably prove to be deficient when they come to us. The advantages of the departmental system are so many that I have no time to more than hint at them.'

"Principal Babson, English High school, Boston: 'The departmental system of instruction was introduced into this school twenty years ago, and has worked entirely to the satisfaction of the school committee and of the public. We should consider it a very decided step backward to return to the old grade system. The demands upon teachers now are so enormous that it would be utterly impossible for any one teacher to do satisfactory work in all the branches pursued in one class for a single year. Almost every one of our teachers is a specialist, and would take equal rank with professors in colleges.'

"It is worthy of note that the age of pupils and ends to be attained in the high schools elsewhere are approximately the same as those in the Atlanta high schools.

"The spirit of progress that characterizes this age is working wonderful improvements in our schools.

"Differentiation of structure and specialization of function is the law of evolution in everything else; why not also in the high schools?"

Trite But True.

The reason why our New Spring Suits are so popular is that they haven't that stiff, awkward stereotyped hang about them. Soft fronts and loose backs. The Trousers are cut in the fashionable widths, and break over the instep just where they should break. A lady with a gentlemen buyer said, "that Coat is charming, especially in the back. I hate ready-made Clothing as a rule, but this is perfect." Style and fashionableness is the foremost feature in all the Clothing we sell at this store. It doesn't cost any more, either.
All our prices are fair: $12.00 to $20.00 for extreme.

H. L. WILSON, Auctioneer

For Sale, Tuesday, May 5th, a 10-room New Residence, corner of Spring and Kimball Streets, in Peters' Park, at 4:30.

This beautiful house is finished in hard wood, oiled, has all the late improvements and conveniences. It is right in the center of the city, a few minutes' ride from the city hall, and the lot is a beautiful one, in fact no more desirable locality can be found on the north side of the city.

Circumstances force this elegant property upon the market at this time and it must be sold at a sacrifice to the owner. It is a great opportunity for the buyer to secure a fine property at a low price.

For its perfect in material and all of its appointments. Here is a rare opportunity to secure a magnificent home at your own figures.

For Sale Wednesday, May 6, the Bellamy property, cor.
Auburn Avenue and Courtland avenue, at 4:30 O'clock.

This beautiful corner lot fronts 150 feet on Auburn avenue and 50 feet on Courtland avenue. An elegant 2-story, 10-room house is located on the lot, and is one of the most desirable homes in Atlanta. This property is in the hands of the estate of a few blocks from the union depot, the Kimball, Markham house and Aragon.
This central location is very valuable and advantageous in the nature of the cheapness of the lot.

Three elegant building lots can be cut off upon the east side of this block without interfering with the comfort and convenience of the house lot. This property is now in the hands of the estate
